JANUARY 2026

Happy
New Year

Thalictrum aquilegifolium 'Nimbus Pink'
Clive's Comments

It always feels a bit exciting as we type in the new year for the first few times. 2026! Seems like just last year it was 2020 and not much before 2006. However it is now 2026 and we all move into the new year and we are all hoping – expecting? – it to be a good one. 2025 started well for the nursery industry but a few weeks into January and the hot weather hit and stayed around for months. Little rain, lots of sun and lots of wind equals slow sales at all levels. When we finally started to receive rain we moved into election mode which always slows the economy down. Albanese won again and we moved on but the talk of cost of living, housing shortages, interest rates and government deficits put a damper on spending. Overall a slow and hard January to August but then in most states plant sales took off. Almost as though the gardening public had, had enough of not buying plants. It felt like there was this pent up demand which just had to be filled. Even with most Melbourne weekends being wet and windy sales were still good...

....No matter what happens in one year we always expect better things in the next one. Some things won't change too much; normally we would be expecting it to be hot this month and next but after the wet spring across most of Australia the talk of drought and water restrictions should be limited. The building trades are talking about working more than usual in January so maybe we will have good plant sales in late summer.

We also know there will be all sorts of discussions about Australia Day and when or if it should be celebrated. There will be mass protests in Melbourne, Sydney and Brisbane although the general public is getting tired of them all. We assume that it will probably rain during the Sydney Test and that there will be some long hot matches at the Australian Open. Then February is here and the TV will be full of stories about the really young ones starting their school life. Some of us will try and remember our first day but with not much success. I do find that trying to remember my primary school days makes me wonder what these six year olds will be experiencing when they are 30? 40? 50?.

There was one big event in 2025 that didn't make world news but certainly was important to the gardening community of Australia. After 38 years Jane Edmanson left Gardening Australia. Her last episode was in November and it was a special just on her life with GA. I am sure she struggled to recognise some of those early photos of herself. However she was a true hero of the home gardener and has a great skill in talking to and understanding both plants and gardeners. Having travelled with her many times both here and over seas she was always open to chatting with anyone who took the time to say hello.

Looking across the gardening media and after Jane there is really only Graham Ross still on our screens from those early years of TV Gardening. There have been some real greats and like them or not they all helped build our industry. The likes of Kevin Heinze, Colin Campbell, Peter Cundall and Don Burke who sometimes had to fight hard with management to understand the importance of plants and gardens to the people of Australia. There are some amazing modern presenters who are making the subject relevant to the younger generations. Hopefully they will be the Jane and Kevins of the future.

So thanks Jane for a lifetime of celebrating what makes our industry so much fun and so important to the people of Australia. I am sure we will see you popping up on our screens at the odd garden show.

Christmas has just gone and it is the best time of the year. We can spend time with family and friends and I hope Santa was good to you. We at Larkman Nurseries wish you all a very happy and prosperous New Year – whichever one you celebrate! Let's all make 2026 the best year we can!

Clive Larkman

Do you want or need to import live plants?

If so, you may need to use a Post Entry Quarantine facility (PEQ)

- We have a PEQ facility with ability to handle the majority of plants
- Deflask tissue culture in PEQ or in regular nursery conditions
- Advise on packing and handling to minimise risk to plant health
- Assist in obtaining import permits
- Organise fumigation and insecticidal dips
- Will collect from airport
- Ship Australia wide once cleared PEQ (WA restrictions for new varieties may apply.)
- Pot on into larger pots post PEQ
- Bulk up stock post PEQ
- 30 years experience in plant importation
- 35 years experience in plant growing
- Handle one plant to several thousand.
- Fully licensed with Biosecurity and Border Control
