AUGUST 2025

New Line – Order Now for Spring Delivery.

Agapanthus 'Twister' Clive's Comments

August is here which means another winter is nearly over and the warmer spring weather starts soon. There is good debate over when seasons start and finish. There is a logical feeling that we should use the indigenous concept of seasons. Others feel we should stay with what we use now and others feel the seasons should be tied to the solar movements. They feel that winter starts at winter solstice, summer at summer solstice, spring at spring equinox and autumn on the autumn equinox. What ever you believe it is still a human need to define the natural world in set terms we can understand.

An observant person knows when the season has changed. They see when the bird songs change and when the plants show the new buds etc that indicate we are moving into spring. There will be a day in March/April when we know summer has ended and autumn starts. As there is a day in July August where we know spring is here (in Melbourne). It seems as though there is a lift in the mood when that spring day arrives. For most people this is just nice but for us poor nursery folk it is critical as it brings about the start in new plant growth. It also tends to result in a boost to people buying plants.

In other states the months are different but the changes are still there. No matter how hard the previous six months have been us nursery folk are always positive that spring will be great and sales will be high.....

....We have just been in Perth for our Renaissance meeting and they have been booming with plant sales for over a year. Victoria has been the opposite with some of the worst trading in ten years. This is from the very hot dry summer autumn then the election and the constant negative Victorian press. However it feels like there is this huge pent up demand for plants. The rain has meant we have plenty of water available and the gardens are all looking good.

So like every other year we need to make sure we have plenty of stock on the ground and be ready for the busy few months ahead. There is still a cohort of people who started gardening during Covid that are still enjoying the experience. Hopefully we can keep them and their kids growing and planting ornamental and edible plants. The more people who do the better for our industry but even more so, they are good for the environment. All these plants help fix Carbon and are mini Oxygen machines.

As an industry we should promote that Gardening is good for the environment, the health and the wellbeing of society. It is much better for the young folk to be growing plants than playing with their phones. So let's all talk up growing plants, being in the garden and growing your own food. Old, young and in between we will all benefit.

It is a no-lose pastime. The more the better!

Clive Larkman

Do you want or need to import live plants?

If so, you may need to use a Post Entry Quarantine facility (PEQ)

- We have a PEQ facility with ability to handle the majority of plants
- Deflask tissue culture in PEQ or in regular nursery conditions
- Advise on packing and handling to minimise risk to plant health
- Assist in obtaining import permits
- Organise fumigation and insecticidal dips
- Will collect from airport
- Ship Australia wide once cleared PEQ (WA restrictions for new varieties may apply.)
- Pot on into larger pots post PEQ
- Bulk up stock post PEQ
- 30 years experience in plant importation
- 35 years experience in plant growing
- Handle one plant to several thousand.
- Fully licensed with Biosecurity and Border Control
